

USDA's Plan to Unleash Meat Imports Attacked by NCA

Decision Based on Threatened Shortages Of Meat Counter-Productive, Could Lead to Worse Situation, Up Prices

Denver, Nov. 25 - The National Cattlemen's Assn. today voiced strong opposition to the Administration plans to suspend limits on meat imports in 1981. The NCA statement followed a government estimate of 1981 imports and an announcement of plans to suspend quotas and not negotiate import restraints with the exporting nations. The U.S. Department of Agriculture has now estimated that, without controls, imports subject to the Meat Import Law would total 1,468 million pounds in 1981. This is 11 million pounds more than the import law, with its counter-cyclical quota formula, would normally permit next year.

Claiming that the total meat supply in 1981 will be inadequate, the Administration said it intended to suspend the import quotas which apply to beef and veal. By law, the Administration must make a decision on 1981 meat import restrictions by Jan. 1.

Merlyn Carlson, NCA president, strongly criticized the Carter administration's action, and he pointed out that, as in past cases like this, the action actually could be counterproductive and hurt the public as well as cattlemen.

Carlson said, "First, it should be recognized that, because of rapidly escalating costs as well as lower cattle prices, most cattlemen have been losing money recently. While the estimated amount of extra meat to be imported is not large, the government's action may create more uncertainty and discourage many cattlemen. This can halt or limit the rebuilding of cattle herds. As a result, the public may see less beef and higher prices in future years than otherwise would be the case."

"Secondly, I point out that domestic beef production in 1981 will be as large as in 1980. The consumer problem that the government refers to is a result basically of government action. (CONT. ON PAGE 17)

NCA Survey Suggests Positive Approach to Futures Market Use

Denver - The National Cattlemen's Assn. should take a positive rather than a negative approach in dealing with the futures trading, according to the results of a futures market survey among association members.

The survey confirmed that many members believe the industry would be more sound economically without futures markets. However, with the futures a fact of life, a majority believes that NCA's major role should be to escalating costs as well as lower cattle

SOVIET GRAIN EMBARGO CONTINUES COLLAPSE...

Recent announcement by Canadian Wheat Board Minister Hazen Argue that his country had decided to withdraw from the Carter Grain Embargo against Russia was another evidence of how ineffective this move has been. It was at the same time a most powerful argument for free markets and markets free of political taint. Other nations in trying to assist the United States on this matter soon found that international trade is a world all to itself and as the world stands today no one country can command the economic power to build fences that are not full of holes even before they are set up.

It has been common knowledge that grain from the Western Countries was being sent to Europe and finding markets in Eastern Europe and were then work for improvement of the futures contract and help members use the markets more effectively. In response to a directive from the membership at the last convention, NCA conducted a survey, through NCA's Beef Business Bulletin, among all members.

A substantial number of members responded to the survey, which was sponsored by the Marketing Committee, and the survey findings are considered valid by NCA's Council of Economic Advisors.

The results of the survey and the recommendations of a marketing subcommittee on cattle futures were presented to the NCA board of directors at a recent meeting. The recommendations will now go to the Marketing Committee and to the members at the 1981 convention.

After reviewing the extensive survey results, the marketing subcommittee concluded and recommended:

1. NCA should not pursue discontinuance of cattle futures trading. A positive approach toward improvement in and use of the markets should be taken.
2. NCA should not change its present policies on futures markets.
3. NCA should pursue the following action program:
 - a. Educational — Conduct objective educational seminars on futures trading and operation of the exchanges; provide members and other cattlemen with information on futures trading — through such means as the Beef Business Bulletin, affiliated association magazines and other farm and trade media.
 - b. NCA should work for contract and other changes — including development of a delivery certificate; changes in both the live cattle and feeder cattle contracts; and changes in the delivery system and delivery points. NCA also should determine the feasibility of beef (boxed and carcass) contracts.
 - c. Modify the rules in regard to: (1) trade limits; (2) regulating the activities of large traders; (3) surveillance of the markets.

Genetic Profiles Announces A Series Of Seminars On EVALUATING CATTLE BY MEASURING

A revolutionary new method of evaluating and selecting cattle through dimensional measurements is making news throughout the industry. It is based on research carried out by Dr. Jan Bonsma, the renowned South African animal scientist, and catenogen in this country. The measurement system works and is going to change the cattle industry as we know it.

Genetic Profiles has developed this advanced method for cattlemen to measure and accurately evaluate their cattle through computer and video technology. Because of the tremendous interest in the "measuring" method, the people at Genetic Profiles are offering a series of Measurement Seminars throughout the United States to acquaint cattlemen with his unique evaluation tool. Cuarenta Hosts Largest Beefmaster Field Day

More than 400 cattlemen from Texas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana helped make Cuarenta Ranch's first field day one of the most successful in Beefmaster history. The field day, co-sponsored by Cuarenta Ranch and Beefmaster Breeders Universal, was held at Cuarenta's headquarters near Muldoon, Texas.

Leo Jasik Sets World Beefmaster Bull Record in Barfield Sale

Immokalee, Fla. — Fred Barfield Beefmaster's "Fifth Edition" sale here Oct. 18 set two new world Beefmaster records: its gross of $1,089,200 was the first production sale to top $1 million in Beefmaster history; and when Leo A. Jasik of Leo Jasik Beefmasters, Pleasanton, Texas, bought a half-interest in "Warrior III," for $400,000.

Beefmaster Bulls Are Making More Money In Commercial Herds. Are You Building Your Herd This Way?

Mutual dependency. The purebred breeder and the commercial cowman. One's survival depends on the other.

Serious Beefmaster breeders know the short and long of it — their future and that of Beefmasters will be determined by the commercial industry; and commercial bull sales make up most of their yearly incomes.

Not surprisingly, these concerned breeders are producing Beefmaster bulls that make more money for the commercial producer. It's the only way they can survive. And because they do have top performing BBU-Certified Beefmaster bulls, they can help the commercial cowman survive.

Beefmasters got to the top because of popular, commercial demand. So long as Beefmasters make more money for the commercial industry, they will remain on top.

A lot of serious breeders intend to keep it that way. Visit one of these breeders — or attend a BBU-member commercial bull sale. You'll like your choices.

Beefmasters are a proven way to help survive the Eighties.

Priefert Bale Buggy
No winches
No hydraulics
No electrical connections
Don't Damage Your Roof!
When you get moisture under the roof of the bale, it can't dry out and this spoils the hay. The Priefert Bale Buggy never touches the roof, never drops or rolls the bale. With no bale damage, there's seldom bale spoilage.
The Priefert Bale Buggy hooks to your pickup or tractor with only a simple pin hitch and trip rope. Because brakes are not required, the Bale Buggy works well in bad ground conditions. The simplicity of the Priefert bale mover will amaze you and assure you of a long, productive life for this unit.

Hereford Breeders Elect David Largent Incoming President

Kansas City — David Largent, Willsall, Mo., was elected president of the American Hereford Association during the organization's annual meeting. Largent was elevated to the post from the position of senior vice president and he succeeds Gene Schroeder, Palisade, Mo., at the helm of the world's largest beef breed records association.

The Largent name has been a familiar one in the Hereford industry for 80 years. His grandfather entered the registered Hereford business in 1901 and was one of the first Hereford breeders in Texas to exhibit his Herefords nationally. David's father, Roy, was a nationally known breeder, exhibitor and livestock judge, and served as president of the American Hereford Association in 1952.

Elevated to the post of senior vice president of the American Hereford Association was John R. Howarth, Cleveland, Mo. Howarth operates the Circle H Farm where registered Hereford cattle, cotton, soybeans, wheat and rice are all parts of an extensive crop and livestock operation. Newly elected to serve on the board of directors was Gino Pedretti, El Nido, Ca. He succeeds Bob Kunde, Glen Ellen, Ca.

Re-elected to serve on the board of directors for another three-year term were Howarth and Jack Vanier.

V BAR RANCH HEREFORD MATURE COW DISPERSION

V—
V Bar Ranch
Rt. 1, Box 108 • Stanton, TX 79782
Phone 915/458-3370

Dear Friends,

It is with much regret that we find it necessary to sell our mature cow herd. We have lost the lease on a portion of our land, and the decision to sell was made solely because of the lack of room on the ranch for the numbers we currently have.

We are going to continue in the registered Hereford business, and therefore, are going to keep all of our 1978 and younger females. We feel blessed to be associated with the fine people in the Hereford industry, and with this set of heifers that we are keeping, we will be able to continue to be a part of the industry.

We have been well pleased over the years with the results of our breeding program, and it is our wish that the cattle from this cow herd dispersion will produce a significant result for their buyers. We feel that this is an opportunity for you to select foundation females from reputation Hereford families, selected and vigorously culled over the years for high performance in all traits.

We look forward to seeing you on December 12. If there is anything that we at the ranch can do to assist you before or during the sale, please don't hesitate to call on us.

Sincerely,
Mary Sale
Bruce Brandenberger
